

INHS Newsletter – November 2017

Dear INHS members,

In this month's newsletter we are pleased to announce two calls for publishing work in what is now the two leading international academic series on hate studies. As always, we also list links to a large number of new publications this month from an array of peer-reviewed journals and open access materials from across the globe, which should keep us all busy! Finally, don't forget to take a look at our most recent blog article on the INHS website.

Write for the Palgrave Hate Studies Book Series

This is a call for book proposals for the Palgrave Hate Studies series, overseen by Neil Chakraborti and Barbara Perry. The series is unique and rapidly expanding, covering topics from cyber racism to transphobic hate crime. Palgrave would like to encourage further submissions from academics internationally in this important and timely area. If you would like to submit a proposal for a short Pivot, monograph or edited collection, please get in touch with the Commissioning Editor (Josephine.Taylor@palgrave.com) who would be interested to hear your ideas.

Journal of Hate Studies - Call for papers

Based from the theme of the 4th International Conference on Hate Studies at the Gonzaga Institute for Hate Studies – “Engaging with Communities for Justice”, submissions for Volume 15 of the Journal for Hate Studies should represent original or substantially original work not previously published elsewhere. We are especially interested in full paper submissions that align with the 2017 International Conference on Hate Studies. Volume 15 will be co-edited by Dr. Kem Gambrell (gambrell@gonzaga.edu) and Dr. Lazarina Topuzova (topuzova@rmu.edu). Initial abstracts of 500 words, along with a brief bio and contact information, should be sent directly to the editors no later than December 3, 2017. Authors will then be notified of abstract acceptance for submission of full papers. Further details of the journal can be found here: <https://www.gonzaga.edu/Academics/hate-studies/journal-hate-studies/default.asp>

Facing Facts Hate Crime Monitoring Course

We also would like to make you aware of the 10 November deadline to enroll for another Facing Facts "Hate Crime Monitoring Course". This is a 6-week course designed to develop a better understanding about the nature and impact of hate crime and to provide participants with tools to accurately monitor their occurrence. Detailed information about the course and enrollment instructions can be found on the Facing Facts website. The course starts on 20 November, 2017.
